

WOUND HEALING

Effective wound healing is best achieved in a well-nourished individual

Effective wound healing requires energy, nutrients, and adequate blood flow. Inadequacy in any of these areas will slow down the wound healing process. A major requirement for wound healing is protein, which supplies essential amino acids.

Perfect Protein Powder is a hypoallergenic, complete protein supplement that provides those necessary amino acids. Wound healing can be expedited by using supplements that will enhance collagen formation such as vitamin A, vitamin C, and zinc.

Adequate blood flow to the wound is just as important as solid nutritional foundation to expedite healing

Neo40 Pro is a supplement which has demonstrated the ability to increase nitric oxide levels in the body, thereby increasing blood flow and oxygen delivery into the wound area.

Increasing blood flow in the body certainly enhances the wound healing process. But there are other disease states that might benefit from enhanced nitric oxide levels, increased blood flow, and increased oxygen delivery. In addition to challenging wound issues, some of the other diseases that have shown positive improvement are:

- Elevated blood pressure
- Sexual dysfunction (ED)
- Cognitive issues
- Chronic fatigue
- Poor circulation
- Wound healing
- Inflammation
- Elevated triglycerides
- GI problems
